

 JEREMY PHIFER

SPOTLIGHT NEWS & FEATURES > JEREMY PHIFER

1st SINGLE - CHARTING #49 On MUSIC ROW & COUNTRY RADIO

 "TAKE THE 'L' OUT OF LOVER"

CLICK & VIEW > CMT artists www.cmt.com/artists/jeremy-phifer/
Get Country.

ACHILLIAD'S BLOG: www.achilliad.wordpress.com/?s=Jeremy+Phifer

Paris Texas Artist Jeremy Phifer Makes A Positive Impression On The Nashville Music Scene.

(pictured L-R)

Michael Powers of Star Farm Nashville; John Ozier, GM at Ole Publishing; Joe Putnam, Radio Promo Veteran; Bud Achers, Entertainment Attorney and artist manager. Matt Corbin of Star Farm was also in attendance.

Jeremy Phifer

Nashville, TN August 28, 2014

There are artists who sing and there are artists who entertain.

Paris Texas native, Jeremy Phifer is truly a seasoned country entertainer.

On Aug 27th, Jeremy and The Texas Bad'Water Band took the stage in Nashville's historic, world famous Wildhorse Saloon. He was in Nashville to perform a private showcase for 25 label and industry professionals. This was his moment to make an impact. Jeremy did not disappoint from the opening song, "Never Too Late To Run," to the unforgettable performance of his Texas Country Rock version of "Purple Rain." He closed the set with hit debut Top 40 Music Row single, "Take The L Out Of Lover." Jeremy Phifer proved to a room full of major and indie labels alike, various booking agents, Cumulus radio execs and media that his live show can stand with anyone.

"As the momentum grows for Jeremy Phifer and his Texas Bad'Water Band, the fire burns hotter and this star shines brighter. Jeremy's songwriting ability is cutting edge. He has the complete star quality package. After years in the Texas circuit, his phenomenal guitar playing and a voice that is seasoned and ready to go nationwide."

The Wildhorse Saloon Restaurant was also open for lunch so guests were surprised with an unexpected stunning free live show.

Immediately following Jeremy's performance, a long line formed just off stage, and Jeremy spent about 45 minutes talking to new fans from around the contry, signing autographs and taking pictures, until he met the very last person in line. No doubt a great way to win new fans, and he did !

Jeremy Phifer Rocks The House at World Famous Wildhorse Saloon in Nashville

JEREMY PHIFER

VISIT > www.JEREMYPHIFER.COM

Jeremy Phifer

TEXAS
SILVER STAR
WHISKEY

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

2010 WINNER N. E. TEXAS

Sports
Dive league teams compete in this game
PAGE 1

Average
How Park compares to state nation for each of gasoline
PAGE 2

Explosion
Three people killed in two Texas school gas explosions
PAGE 3

The Paris News

JUNE 9, 2010 WEDNESDAY Vol. 140, No. 288

Vaccination program has positive outcome

Hospitalizations due to bacterial pneumonias were down 29 percent from the first quarter 2009 to the first quarter 2010 among Red River County residents 65 and older.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

CLARKSVILLE — Galvaston, Texas, residents indicate a positive outcome to the county's pneumococcal vaccination program. A study conducted by the Health, the county learned it had one of the highest percent of hospitalizations rates among Texas counties.

To address this issue, County Judge Morris Harville commissioned a local coalition called Galvaston.

The coalition developed a vaccination campaign in 2008 to encourage Red River citizens 65 and older to get vaccinated against bacterial pneumonias, a final evaluation to the county's high rate of pneumococcal hospitalizations.

The goal was to help prevent hospitalizations related to the illness.

Through donations of time, space and media, local residents organized and published a number of special stories to address the pneumococcal vaccine throughout the county.

In 2009, data on Red River County's number of pneumococcal hospitalizations from seven administrative areas in the previous two years combined.

According to recent DHR preventable hospitalization data, there was a 29 percent decrease in bacterial pneumococcal hospitalizations from first quarter 2009 to first quarter 2010 among Red River County residents 65 and older. There were 36 bacterial pneumococcal hospitalizations in first quarter 2009.

VACCINE P.2

A step closer to Nashville

Local country band prepares to take its music style to state-level competition

KRISTA SCHWARTZ
kschwartz@parisnews.com

Local country group Jeremy Phifer & The Texas Suburban Band has advanced to the Colgate Country Music Showcase competition.

Band members were the local competitors that moved over another round in the U.S. Open Country in Clarksville, where they also were.

The next step in the music competition, to be held in September.

Putting together for the first time and a half, the band is made up of Phifer, lead singer and guitarist Jeremy Phifer (also the 2010 Paris 100 winner), bass player Mattie Gibson, Dillion Harrison on steel guitar and harmonica, Mike Chisholm on drums and Chris Buchanan on fiddle.

Phifer, 25, is a former contestant and is working toward being a full-time musician. In fact, he has made a commitment for the next five years to put everything he has into the local effort.

The band regularly gives local venues, including Carver's and The Depot, and appears to "help" in Clarksville, and elsewhere in Texas to perform as well.

"It's nothing without my band," he said.

Phifer said the band has a Nashville country sound, and Nashville is the goal.

The band's original songs, written by Phifer, include "Young Girl Alone" and "Hell is Thirteen." The band plays both originals and cover songs and is currently working on an album, to be produced in Clarksville, and is owned by Phifer's father, Jerry.

"I'm just trying to make it," he said. "It's provide for my family and do what I love to do."

Jeremy Phifer & The Texas Suburban Band can be found on both MySpace and Facebook.

The Colgate Country Music Showcase will be held each spring and begins with more than 400 contestants nationwide competing in local competitions for one week in June.

Winners advance to state competitions in search of the $10,000 prize, the state title and the chance to advance to regional competitions. The national final is held at the American Street Bandstand in Nashville, Tenn., and contestants compete for the $100,000 prize and national title.

It will be judging entries in both country and bluegrass at a recent festival.

Recreation

Car show also offers arts, crafts

BILL HARRISON
bharrison@parisnews.com

The Northern Texas Classic Car Show Friday and Saturday at Lone Star Center is to feature a large Arts & Crafts show with more than 100 vendors that fill the north of the center and spread to the outside.

More than 30 vendors from a wide area will set up inside the air-conditioned center both Friday and Saturday during the car show, which promises to be one of the largest car shows of its kind ever in Paris.

How vendors will offer their wares include the center and Arts and Saturday 2010 Northwell Center will open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. The car show will be Saturday only, starting at 8 a.m.

Just the facts

- Car show Saturday only, 8 a.m.
- Arts and crafts show Friday the center and Saturday 2010 Northwell Center will open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. The car show will be Saturday only, starting at 8 a.m.

"The arts and crafts show will offer a great variety of items and should be a great place to get a bargain," Phifer's Christian, vice of the show organization, said. "There will be ample food and drink vendors for your convenience."

The inside vending area is limited, but outside spaces will be available.

Northwell Center is a change of the outdoor market.

Those interested in setting up outside can contact Loretta at 817-333-3333 or call 817-333-3333.

The car show, which has just about 100 vendors, is expected to bring in more than $100,000.

"It will be a family affair," Christian said. "There will be kids activities on site to help make this a family affair."

Christian said a wrap party will take place at the same time as the show, providing an opportunity for appreciation.

CAR SHOW P.2